The CCRN is an online network that is a central hub for co-operative research, including:

- ◆ News
- ◆ Co-op research library (over 1300 publications – see our video tutorial for the library)
- ◆ Research profiles
- ◆ Events calendar
- ◆ Research priorities and ideas

Background:

Over 100 researchers, students and practitioners contributed to the development of this network, which was coordinated by the Canadian Co-operative Association and the Conseil canadien de la coopération et de la mutualité and funded by the Rural and Co-operatives Secretariat.

Post your profile so others can know you and connect with you!

You can post your profile as a researcher, professors, student or practitioner interested in research. You can create a new profile and submit a photo or you can provide a link to an existing webpage. Submit your profile today here: <https://ccnrsrc.wordpress.com/researcher-profiles/>

Share your news/events/opportunities!

You can share news about conferences, funding opportunities, partnership opportunities or anything else of interest to the research/practitioner community and it will be posted to the website. Submit news today and as frequently as you want:

Submit your publications and reports to be added to the research library!

Any report on co-ops in Canada or beyond should be included in the library so practitioners/researchers/students can read your work. Citations, links or pdfs can be submitted here: <http://ccnrsrc.wordpress.com/research-library/#suggest-resource> View the library to see if your publications are already there and let us know what we missed:

Don't miss another event or publication - sign up to be notified of research news and opportunities!

Simply enter your email on the main site and be notified (at an interval of your choosing – such as weekly, daily, etc) the news happening throughout the co-op research community in Canada. See the “Updates via email” option on the right column of the main page to enter your email and click “follow”: <http://ccnrsrc.wordpress.com/>
